

ed out Col. L. S. Brown, general agent of the Southern railway, as the President to the old woman, but she shook her head.

"Ah doan' believe him lip-whiskers have grown like that," she said, "but 'an 'speck he would be glad if it had. That gem'n certainly have got lovely whiskers on him's lip."

On Wednesday evening, before parting company from his party, the President entertained them at dinner in the "Biggest." He expressed himself as greatly pleased with his reception throughout the South, and said that the tour would be the last extended one he would make during his Administration. Some one suggested that he would probably be obliged to make a number of journeys during his "next term."

"There will not be any next term for me," he said, with emphasis. "I am now serving my last."

"But suppose that you are nominated anyway?"

"I will not be nominated," he exclaimed.

As the members of the party were bidding the President farewell, one of them expressed the hope that he would not be seasick on his homeward voyage.

"Will you please tell me," he exclaimed, "when I have ever been on a ship and was not seasick? But I wish to tell you that I am, and I am, and when I see him at his worst, no matter how sick I am myself, I shall tell him some pork and beans or sauerkraut."

Stenographer M. C. Latta, of the White House, returns to Washington on the sick list. He dates his ailment to the "marine supper" that the people of St. Augustine gave the President and party last night. Several other members of the party suffered dire disturbance in their digestive organs after that meal, but not Latta.

Dr. Rixey said that Mr. Latta had a very narrow escape from typhoid poisoning.

Church this afternoon. Argument as to the propriety of reopening the case was heard at the session this morning.

It was decided to permit the committee representing the trustees of the university to appear before the board and state its position. At the last session of the board, six months ago, the confirmation of Prof. Mitchell's election to a chair in the university was denied.

There was opposition this morning to the hearing of the case, and the committee of the board, which had been considered and disposed of, and there was no reason for taking it up again.

It was finally determined, however, to permit the committee to state its position, without going into the merits of the charges against Prof. Mitchell. If after hearing this statement it should be decided to reopen the case, the hearing on the merits will not take place at once, but will be deferred to such a time as will permit all sides of the controversy to present their evidence and arguments.

Dr. Shenk There.

The Rev. J. W. Shenk, D. D., of Los Angeles, one of the signers of the charges against Prof. Mitchell, is here to guard the interest of the protestants against Prof. Mitchell's confirmation. The committee of Boston University trustees consists of Dean Warren, of Theological Seminary, Boston; Huntington, and Dr. Perrin, pastor of a leading Boston church.

Not a Methodist.

According to Dr. Shenk, Prof. Mitchell is not a Methodist and should get out of the church.

"They say he is a very nice man," said Dr. Shenk, "but he has no place as a teacher of Hebrew and Biblical exegesis in a Methodist theological seminary. He denies the fall in Eden, the truth and efficacy of the vicarious atonement and the beginning of the history of the human race as revealed and described in the scriptures."

"He has no faith in the prophets who preceded the Messiah. He declares they had no knowledge of the coming of the Christ and never predicted his advent. The natural consequence of his teaching is to strip the Savior of his divinity. Prof. Mitchell denies this, but one else can reach any other conclusion."

"Surely, however nice and however good a man may be, he is not the man to teach theology to Methodist preachers in embryo. His beliefs are not those of the Methodist Church. He is steeped in German rationalism, and does not think along Methodist lines."

EDICT OF DISMISSAL OFFICIALLY DISPLAYED

The Executive order of the 17th instant amending the civil service rules governing dismissal of clerks in the classified service and which has been the source of unending interpretation by the department clerks and others, made its appearance today in an attractive circular form in the several departments. Copies were hung up in the elevators and on the bulletin boards, and were displayed in the rooms occupied by chiefs of divisions and chiefs of bureaus. And in the office of the appointment clerks the notice that removal for cause would be made hereafter without hearings stared everyone in the face.

According to the latest interpretation of the President's order of the 17th instant, the recommendation of the chief of a division for removal is sufficient for the immediate dismissal of the offending clerk. But if the offending clerk or clerkess can bring the right sort of political influence the dismissal will not be put to rest.

JOCKEY'S SLAYER GUILTY.

BUFFALO, Oct. 27.—John Adams, the twenty-year-old colored stable boy who is charged with killing John Graham, a jockey, at Kenilworth race track in July, was found guilty of manslaughter, second degree, and sentenced to ten years in Auburn prison.

WORK A PLEASURE

It is One of the Real Joys Given Us.

"Postum Food Coffee has done more for me in two years," writes a Wisconsin young lady student, "than all the medicines and treatments I had employed to overcome the effects of the coffee poisoning that was killing me by degrees."

"I had all the familiar symptoms and suffered all the well-known tortures. My stomach was wrecked and I could not eat, my head ached almost continually, I became the nervous victim of insomnia, and the capacity for study deserted me. Of course this came on gradually and without suspicion, for a long time, as to the cause."

"Two years ago a friend enthusiastically urged me to quit using the old kind of coffee and to drink Postum Food Coffee. I have never regretted acting upon the advice. As soon as the coffee poisoning was eliminated, the strengthening and nourishing properties of Postum began to build me up."

"Each day I gained a little, the color crept back to my cheeks, my limbs rounded out with new flesh, my complexion grew fair and rosy, my digestion improved, and now I can eat anything at any time, the nervous insomnia has left me, and I sleep soundly at night and wake up refreshed. I have no more headaches, and mental work has become a pleasure to me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

MEMBERS OF BAR MEET

Suitable Resolutions Presented and Adopted at Meeting Held in City Hall.

The members of the Washington bar, the justices of the Supreme Court of the District and also of the Court of Appeals of the District assembled this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the City Hall to pay tribute to the memory of their brother members of the local bar who have passed away in the last year.

Besides the members of the local bar there were present Commissioners Macfarland, West and Biddle; the heads of all the departments of the District Government, and many prominent residents of Washington, friends of those deceased. The meeting was the largest of the kind held in many years in the District and was called to order by Hugh T. Taggart, president of the Washington Bar Association.

Resolutions Committee.

At a recent meeting of the association committee were appointed to draft resolutions expressing regret for the loss sustained by the bar and the community in the death of Justice Andrew Wylie, formerly a member of the bench of the District Supreme Court; Andrew Brown Duvall, late Corporation Counsel, and William John Miller, who at the time of his death was the oldest practitioner, in time of service, before the local courts.

The committee appointed to present resolutions on the death of Mr. Duvall consisted of R. Ross Perry, Joseph J. Darlington, J. Holdsworth Gordon, Alon B. Browne, Benjamin F. Leighton, Leon Schreiber, Sidney S. Thompson, Edward H. Thomas and A. Leftwich Sinclair. The report of the committee submitted by its chairman was as follows:

Lost an Ornament.

"Resolved, That in the death of Andrew Brown Duvall, our bar has been deprived of one of its chief ornaments—a lawyer profoundly versed in the science of the law and skilled in its practice, a wise and upright counselor, and a zealous and earnest advocate; and that we shall ever hold in reverential remembrance his eminent legal attainments and many qualities, his high sense of honor and sturdy integrity, his love of truth and justice, his fidelity to duty, his spotless purity of character, his courteous and dignified demeanor, and his admirable bearing as a member of the bar, as a citizen, and as a man."

"Resolved, That the memory of Andrew Brown Duvall deserves to be cherished, not only for his legal attainments and learning and his sterling qualities as a citizen, but also by reason of the faithful and efficient services Corporation Counsel. He was appointed to this onerous and responsible position on June 1, 1899, and administered the affairs of the office with tireless energy, signal success, and unbroken fidelity, until September 12, 1935, when he passed away; and while occupying the office he impressed upon the affairs of the District of Columbia imperishable marks of his learning, thoroughness, industry and wisdom."

"Resolved, further, That these resolutions be presented to the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, with the request that they be spread upon their minutes, as a tribute of respect to the memory of our lamented brother; and that a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of the deceased, to whom, in their deep bereavement and inconsolable loss, we tender our sincere and heart-felt sympathy and condolence."

Addresses eulogizing the life and work of Mr. Duvall were made by members of the committee and other prominent members of the bar.

FACED BY REVOLT, THE CZAR COLLAPSES

many directions has been received today. A dispatch from Krasnoyarsk, Siberia, states that the men on the Siberian railway have joined the movement. They are expected to return to work on Tuesday, however.

The men at Slatoust struck yesterday and all communication with the town is cut off today.

Printers Quit.

A newspaper strike is one of the latest developments of the situation. Several of the newspapers have been forced to suspend publication on account of the refusal of their compositors to work and it is expected by tomorrow all the papers will be in the grip of the strikers.

This strike started last night when compositors on the Novosti Nasha Dzhizn and Svyun Otsetwa struck. Today the compositors on the Russ, Birschevaya and Viedomosti refused to set up the evening editions of these papers. It is not likely that any of the papers will be able to appear tomorrow.

Strike Among Poles

Is Political Uprising

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 27.—The strike is still in progress here, and additions to the ranks of the strikers are made constantly. Today all the factories, many of the banks, the insurance exchange, and many other offices are closed.

The strike has assumed a purely political character, and the workmen who have left their positions are insisting that their demands for reform shall be complied with.

The authorities have stopped the publication of private telegrams from St. Petersburg, Moscow, and Vienna.

The police at Batoum have seized a large number of Armenian bombs packed in orange boxes, which were designed for use in Smyrna, Salonica, and Constantinople.

Odessa Revolutionists

Dynamite Battleship

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Russian battleship Potemkin (the revolutionist Kniaz Potemkin) has been blown up by revolutionists. Odessa dispatches report, and the men of the battleship Catherine II, at Sebastopol, have mutinied, for which 400 of them have been put under arrest.

HOLD CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

Doctors of Free Dispensary Adopt Platform

Will Install Registration Used by National Association—Looking for Larger Quarters.

Consumption is a germ disease, is communicable, curable, and preventable.

Communicated by careless expectoration of the tuberculous patient. Curable where the patient early enough adopts sanitary living, with an increased supply of tissue building foods.

Preventable in the degree that information and practical instruction are sent to those who through ignorance and carelessness are spreading germs.

Such is the platform laid down by the staff of the Free Dispensary for Consumptives. It indicates the lines along which the work of the organization will be carried on, as outlined at a conference last evening attended by fourteen physicians, to discuss methods of making the work more effective.

Will Arrange Lectures.

The new plan of registration and record adopted by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis was accepted by the doctors present, and will soon be installed. Each member of the staff is to try to arrange for one or more lectures in churches, in public organizations, or in private houses.

Investigation is to be made also concerning larger quarters in which to carry on dispensary and hospital work.

MERCHANT MUST FACE CHARGE OF PERJURY

Abraham Forsythe, who claims to be a New York merchant, was yesterday placed under detention by Commissioner of Immigration F. P. Sargent at Boston, Mass.

It is alleged that Forsythe made a false statement to Commissioner Billings at Boston in an attempt to pass two Russian children into the country last Tuesday.

Forsythe made an affidavit to the Boston authorities that the two children were relatives of his. The children, however, when questioned closely by the immigrant inspectors denied that such was the case, saying that they had come from Russia on a prearranged plan and that they were given instructions in London as to what course to follow in passing the immigration inspection.

Commissioner Billings, the local immigrant inspector at Boston, will file charges of perjury against Forsythe. The two children will be deported. Commissioner Sargent has taken personal charge of the case. What final disposition will be made in the matter is not known.

GRAND JURY INDICTS CARR FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Charged With Stealing Funds of Smithsonian Institution—Two Counts in Decision.

William W. Carr, formerly disbursing agent of the Smithsonian Institution, was today indicted by the local grand jury for embezzlement.

The indictment contains two counts. In the first he is charged with embezzling $8,000 December 31, 1934, and in the second with the embezzlement of $4,000 March 31, 1935.

The witnesses who appeared before the grand jury, and upon whose testimony the indictment was reported, were Richard Rathbun, Ebelt Whitling, Lawrence O. Robbins, P. M. Dorsey, and Christian S. Pearce.

The other persons against whom the grand jury reported indictments and the offenses which they are accused of committing are: Michael Atchite, larceny; Dora Wanzler, larceny; George W. Repple, larceny; James Chase, larceny; James Young, receiving stolen property; Ralph Elsie, larceny; housebreaking; Isaac Hawkes, larceny; and Lewis Lewenthal, larceny; alias Bernat Blum, false pretenses.

The grand jury ignored the charges against Arthur Grimes, Joseph H. Smith, Thomas A. Smith, and Charles E. Day.
